Safety Role of Government Gets Car Industry OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The automobile industry, seeking to meet rising congressional demands for strict safety regulations, endorsed today "a strong role for the federal government in setting vehicle safety standards." The revised industry position was presented to the House Commerce Committee by John S. Bugas, vice president of the Ford Motor Co., in behalf of the four major U.S. manufacturers. He is chairman of the Safety Administrative Committee of the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

County Starts Campaign to Clean Dumps

The Twin Falls County Commission and Twin Falls County Sheriff James H. Benham said Tuesday they have begun a campaign to wipe out "our unsightly garbage dumps."

Morris Carlson, commission chairman, said the dumps are an eyesore and some of them are very "nauseating" to visit.

He said farmers and stockmen have been hauling carcasses to the dumps and leaving them there. He said many of the dumps are literally covered with the bodies of dead sheep and cattle.

In a joint statement by the commission and the sheriff, they said, "We are cautioning farmers and stockmen to refrain from hauling their dead farm animals to our county dumps. There are services available for this type of disposal. We are asking for everyone's cooperation, and violators will be prosecuted."

The commissioners have been inspecting area dumps for the past couple of weeks and said they were shocked by the conditions they saw. They said in addition to numerous carcasses strewn about the dumps, there are auto bodies and large numbers of tree trunks and branches piled about the desert.

Carlson said work is being done at some of the dumps and will be accelerated.

Uncle Sam to Cut American Paychecks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam begins next week to take a bigger chunk of the average American paycheck to help finance the Viet Nam war.

It is the first graduated withholding system in U.S. history and for millions it means less take-home pay. But for others, especially low income families, less federal income tax will be deducted from their paychecks. Everybody's over-all tax bill for the year will remain the same. The new system is designed merely to bring the amount withheld from paychecks closer to a person's actual taxes.

Since the plan will withdraw about $800 million from the economy by Dec. 31, government economists also hope it will dampen inflationary trends which could lead to a tax increase later.

Beginning May 1, taxes will be withheld from paychecks at six different rates — 14, 15, 17, 20, 25 and 30 per cent.

At present income taxes are withheld at a uniform 14 per cent based only on the taxpayer's salary and number of exemptions he claims.

The new system includes these factors but also takes into account the standard deduction and whether a taxpayer is married. Thus, a taxpayer can take advantage of the split income provisions of federal tax law as part of his withholding for the first time.

The split income provisions allow a married couple a lower tax rate. Previously, this could be used only in figuring taxes at the end of the year.

Suspended

Private flying was suspended Tuesday morning at Joslin Field, Twin Falls, because of the wind velocity which had reached 50 miles per hour by 11 a.m.

West Coast Airline flights were continuing on schedule, however. Strong winds were reported throughout the valley but flight schedules were not affected at the Gooding Airport.

Electricians Vote Truce at Space Center

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Operations were back to normal at this missile base today after striking electricians voted a 30-day truce in their dispute with United Technology Center.

The truce in the 8-day strike of International Union of Electrical Workers members was reached Monday in a five-hour session in San Francisco between federal mediators, union officials and UTC representatives.

UTC electrical workers at Cape Kennedy voted to ratify the interim agreement Monday night and pickets were withdrawn from five entrances to this space center.

Only 116 of the 1,150 construction workers had "honored" the picket lines Monday and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said there was only minor slowdown on a few building projects.

The California plants are located at Sunnyvale, Redwood City and Coyote.

The old contract expired April 15 and the men walked out three days later. The main issue is wages with the union asking for a 16-cent-per-hour increase plus a 30-cent differential for working at Cape Kennedy. California electricians also want their pay raised to the Cape Kennedy level of $3.93 per hour.

Board Buys Land Near High School

Twin Falls School District No. 41 trustees agreed Monday to purchase 10 acres of land and obtain an option on an additional 10 acres directly north of the Twin Falls High School.

The trustees moved to acquire the blocks now owned by Amel Hansing, Twin Falls, $30,000 apiece, by purchasing one block outright and obtaining an option that expires Aug. 20, 1967, on the other.

School Attorney T. M. Robertson, told the trustees the western 10-acre, one-eighth-mile square block, directly north of the western half of the high school property, can be purchased for $30,000, of which $25,000 is down payment and $5,000 is due Aug. 20.

The second 10-acre block, directly to the east of the first block and directly north of the eastern half of the high school property, is to be optioned for $3,000 at the time of option, to be followed by a $27,000 payment on Aug. 20, 1967.

According to Supt. Ernest Ragland, the acquisition is needed to provide for long-term development of the high school facilities.

Preliminary plans for the proposed addition to the Special Education School at Robert Stuart Junior High School were presented the trustees by architect Harold Gerber. He advised the next step is approval of the plans by the State Department of Education.

In other action the trustees hired four teachers for the coming school year. Anna Louise Carter will teach second grade at Morningside School, Mary Martin will be a half-time physical education instructor, Grace S. Keever will continue as librarian at the Twin Falls High School, and Charleen D. Von Gortler will teach either fifth or sixth grades at Harrison or Lincoln schools.

About 30 students surrounded the building which was under military guard because they had threatened to sack the center.

"We will respect the diplomatic immunity of the cultural center," said one student, "but we cannot guarantee the safety of any Indonesian employees working in the building."

About 25 soldiers guarding the building let a three-man student delegation enter to talk with the Soviet cultural officer, but the others were kept outside.

The students repeated demands they made Monday that the Russians close down the Lenin display and stop showing movies about the founder of the Soviet Communist state. The Soviet cultural official again refused.

Students then took up positions outside the building and said they would remain there indefinitely. However, the Lenin exhibit is expected to close in about two days.

Attack Idea

GENEVA (AP) — The United States attacked Soviet proposals for "instant" world disarmament today and called them "wholly impractical at this moment in time."

Chief U.S. delegate William C. Foster told the 17-nation disarmament conference that the Russian plan for general and complete disarmament at one stroke has only "visionary appeal."

The Soviet Union wants to eliminate virtually all nuclear weapons and delivery vehicles in the first stage of disarmament. The United States has proposed a three-stage plan providing a 30 per cent reduction of all arms in the first stage.

'No Sanctuary' for MIGs in Viet Nam, Spokesman Avers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman, replying to questions on the possibility that new model MIG jet fighters encountered in Viet Nam may have come from Red China bases, said today "there is no sanctuary" in the Viet Nam War. But the spokesman, press officer Robert J. McCloskey, said he had no information the MIG21s came from China. In stating that "there is no sanctuary," McCloskey said he was reporting a position set forth by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in the past.

Storms Worsen Texas Flooding Conditions

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Violent thunderstorms swept across drenched northeast Texas Monday, threatening to make flooding conditions more serious and adding to damages that already reached into the millions. Tornadoes struck in south Texas and winds up to 75 miles per hour lashed the Corpus Christi area. At least five damaging twisters were reported in Texas Monday. A packing plant was damaged and trees uprooted at Marshall and a second tornado in the Marshall area knocked down power lines and swept away the roof of a press box at a baseball park.

Another twister dipped to the ground north of Lake Qutman in the Minola area. It caused heavy damage on the Keysey Ross farm.

Earlier, tornadoes struck the town of Kennedy and Runge in south Texas, leaving about 250 persons homeless and causing extensive damage to business buildings.

Red Cross officials said floodwaters had entered 50 homes in Longview and that about 50 families would probably be evacuated from the Roosevelt area of Dallas.

The Weather Bureau issued a tornado watch early today for sections of east central and northeastern Louisiana, and central and southwestern Mississippi. Severe thunderstorms and hail and damaging winds also were forecast.

Rain continued during the early morning from the southern Plains to the Carolinas with heavy falls reported in parts of Arkansas.

Wintery weather returned to northern sections of the Midwest, with blustery winds, snow, cold and falling temperatures in Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas. Two inches of snow covered northern parts of Minnesota and North Dakota.

Robert Smylie, Idaho's Republican governor, said the voters of his state basically support the United States' effort but warned of a growing "crisis of confidence."

Daniel Evans of Washington, a Republican just back from a tour of the Far East, warned of losing the battle for men's minds.

A Democrat, Grant Sayer of Nevada, said, "I do think people in the State of Nevada and the rest of the country are upset about the ... present government of South Viet Nam."

Gov. Clifford Hansen of Wyoming, a Republican, said, "There is a restiveness about some of the dialogues in Washington ... a concern with statements that now that we have sustained some losses we ought to pull out."

Harold Lancaster, Twin Falls County Clerk, said Tuesday only two places where voters can cast an absentee ballot in the May 10 $3,000,000 college bond issue are his office and the office of Mrs. Ella McVey, Jerome County clerk.

Robert Alexander, Benoit and Benoit, attorneys for the college, said persons who expect to be absent on May 10 may obtain an absentee ballot at either of these two offices beginning May 4.

He said a prospective absentee must sign an affidavit stating he will be absent on May 10, and must sign the normal elector's oath. The other two qualifications for voting in the bond issue are that a person has been a resident for more than 30 days and that he pays real property tax.

Lancaster said persons who will not be present to pick up an absentee ballot between May 4 and May 10 must leave an address at which they can be reached, at either of the clerks' offices, and an absentee ballot will be mailed to them.

Alexander said any ballots mailed out must be returned to the clerk prior to closing of the polls May 10.

Lung Rupture Causes Death Of Artificial Heart Patient

HOUSTON (AP) — Marcel DeRudder died today just five days after receiving a partial artificial heart which surgeons believe offers new hope for thousands of heart patients.

Methodist Hospital said an autopsy disclosed that death was caused by a pulmonary or lung rupture.

"The reason for such an occurrence is not now known but extensive investigation is being continued," said a formal statement released eight hours after the 2:04 a.m. CST death.

The statement said postoperative procedure had been working "normally from inception until immediately before Mr. DeRudder's death, when

Support of Policy Hit By Hatfield

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Republican Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon objected today to U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg's plea to western governors for full support of President Johnson's Viet Nam policy.

Hatfield said in an interview that Goldberg's speech to the Western Governors' Conference "was a good description of Viet Nam policy but it didn't offer any new insights or bases on which we could ... evaluate the effectiveness of the policy."

In his speech, Goldberg, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, said, "We are not an army of occupation in South Viet Nam. We have come to South Viet Nam to force the principle of self-determination."

Before Goldberg's speech, some governors expressed general support of the administration policy in Viet Nam, but also said the people in their states were worried about the instability of the South Viet Nam regime of Nguyen Cao Ky.

Robert Smylie, Idaho's Republican governor, said the voters of his state basically support the United States' effort but warned of a growing "crisis of confidence."

Community Action Group Is Planned

A meeting to consider creation of a Twin Falls Community Action Agency has been called by the Twin Falls Hire the Handicapped Committee, Ernest Jellison, committee chairman, announced Tuesday.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the YMCA.

The proposed Community Action Agency would be a broad-based committee of local civic leaders, educators, businessmen and welfare workers, which would be formed to coordinate, set up and direct federal programs carried out under the office of Economic Opportunity.

The committee, according to its proponents, is designed to bring control of the various programs down to the local level, rather than having the educational and welfare programs administered from afar.

The committee would administer and coordinate such diverse programs as Head Start, Neighborhood Youth Corps, Job Corps and training under the Manpower Training and Development Act.

This loss, he said Monday, would mean elimination of 5,000 jobs, instead of 2,000.

Robb, publisher of the Albany (N.Y.) Times-Union and Knickerbocker News, made the statement in a speech at the ANPA's 80th annual meeting.

The meeting coincided with the second day of a strike by the Newspaper Guild of New York which has kept the newly merged World Journal Tribune Inc. from publication. The nine other unions in the newspaper industry support the Guild strike.

Robb said the unions are demanding that the new corporation "keep people they do not need, keep on losing millions and pay millions more than their union contracts call for."

"Unless the issues can be quickly resolved — and I am talking about a matter of a few days at most — I personally believe it is entirely possible that the World Journal Tribune Company will never publish a newspaper at all, and that three papers instead of only one will disappear forever from New York," Robb said.

Robb criticized a U.S. Department of Justice antitrust action in Tucson, Ariz., against morning and evening newspapers that have a joint publishing arrangement.

Vivid Fireball, Described as Bright Meteor, Excites Thousands in East

NEW YORK (AP) — A vivid fireball, described by scientists as a meteor, flashed across the sky Monday night, exciting thousands from the Eastern Seaboard to Ohio.

Dr. Thomas C. Nicholson, chairman of the Hayden Planetarium, called the object an exceptionally bright meteor that left a multicolored, glowing vapor trail. He said it was probably 10,000 times brighter than the brightest star at night.

Astonished viewers reported sighting the flaming object from the Carolinas to Toronto and as far west as Ohio.

The object took off a sensation at the height of its journey as thousands scurried for telephones. Some of the callers seemed entertained while others appeared frightened.

Police switchboards in dozens of communities were swamped with reports of a jet airplane crash and flying saucers.

While there were unconfirmed reports that the object or parts of it had landed, most astronomers believe that it probably disintegrated during its flight.

There was no clear agreement on the size of the object.

Dr. Nicholson, who said the fireball probably was moving 35 miles a second at an angle of 75 to 80 degrees to the earth in the western sky, estimated that it was perhaps "several hundred pounds."

But Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., said: "It was a meteor which must have been less than the size of a football."

A spokesman for the U.S. Naval Observatory in Washington said the object was probably not a man-made satellite, as some believed, because none was scheduled to re-enter the atmosphere.

Some scientists speculated that the object may have been a bolide, which is a type of meteor that burns itself out more slowly than other meteors as it enters the atmosphere and makes a noise at the end of its trajectory.

Area Author Will Receive Top Award

Vardis Fisher, probably Idaho's most outstanding author, will accept, in person, his Wrangler Trophy as the outstanding Western novelist of 1965 at the Western Heritage Awards presentation Friday in Oklahoma City, Okla.

The awards are sponsored annually by the National Cowboy Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center in Oklahoma City.

Fisher has a Ph. D. in literature and taught for several years at New York University with his longtime friend and colleague, the late Thomas Wolfe. Fisher and Wolfe were friends until Wolfe's death.

Fisher's novel "Mountain Man" was named winner of the novel category in the West Heritage Awards, by a panel of judges, from throughout the West. It was published by William Morrow and Co.

Fisher will be accompanied to Oklahoma City by his wife.

Hansen Asks for Appropriation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. George V. Hansen, R-Idaho, Monday asked an appropriation of $50,000 to permit a start on the Lower Teton Dam in Fremont County, Idaho.

The money could be used by the Reclamation Bureau to begin contract negotiations and save a year's time in ultimate completion of the multi-purpose development, Hansen told the House Public Works Appropriations subcommittee.

Mrs. Birrell Is Taken by Death

Mrs. Anna Birrell, 85, died at 9 a.m. Tuesday in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital of a short illness.

She was born Feb. 7, 1881, in Bern, Switzerland. She came to Twin Falls from Salt Lake in 1964. Her husband, John W. Birrell, died in 1954. She is a member of the LDS Church.

She is survived by two sons, Roy M. Birrell and John W. Birrell Jr., both Twin Falls; two daughters, Mrs. Naomi Keener, Burbank, Calif., and Mrs. Emma Hoegstad, Pico, Calif.; seven grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

A cold front moved rapidly southward through eastern Oregon and southern Idaho last night. Behind it a deep mass of unseasonably cold air has spread over this district accompanied by strong winds of 20 to 30 miles per hour with gusts to over 40 miles per hour in some areas. Blowing dust is prevalent over the cultivated areas of southern Idaho. This cold air mass is too dry for any significant amounts of precipitation in the agricultural valleys.

Temperatures today and Wednesday will be 15 to 25 degrees cooler than yesterday, and below freezing temperatures may be expected in all areas with clearing skies tonight and early morning readings dropping to the 20s. Tender plants and tree fruits should be protected against freezing where practical. Wednesday night will probably be about as cold, although some moderation may occur in western parts of the district.

Winds will continue strong through this afternoon, diminishing tonight. Winds will be considerably lighter and generally northwesterly on Wednesday.

Temperatures will begin a gradual rising trend again by Thursday.

Opposition to CSI Board Is Pinpointed

Douglas D. Kramer, candidate for state senate who made a statement Sunday defending the College of Southern Idaho Board of Trustees, said Tuesday: "Since charging that a vocal group in Jerome was opposing the junior college, many Jerome County residents have requested that I point out what the opposition is."

"The opposition is the Northside News. The editor of that paper has seen fit, in a series of editorials, to call the trustees liars and men without integrity. These charges have persisted for months and have been in the form of foul and vicious language."

Kramer explained, "Two of the gentlemen being defamed are James Shields and Robert Blastock who live in my legislative district. I do not take kindly to such attacks upon such dedicated men. I think it's time for leaders to speak out in their defense."

Finally, Kramer commented, "The opposition in Jerome is so few in number that it would not be worthy of mention if it were not for the fact that they are trying to give the impression to Jerome people that the west end of Twin Falls County agrees with them."

"I hope the editor of the Northside News finally wakes up and learns that the west end of Twin Falls County and the county of Jerome favor the bond issue."

"His attempts to divide and conquer will not prevail. The people are long past such nonsense and realize that together this Magic Valley can do great things like build colleges."

Scouts

America's space effort's closest call.

Evans told the scouts and scouters that one of the main principles in the space program — just as in scouting — is the concept of teamwork.

Evans noted the challenges presented by the geometric progression of knowledge. He said that between 1760 and 1900 the sum of world knowledge doubled every 10 years, and again doubled during the decade of the 1950's. He claimed that all knowledge should double by 1967.

He pointed out the tremendous task it is to catalog and disseminate this information so it can be used intelligently.

He charged the Eagle Scouts to make it their affair to put this knowledge to use in the best interests of everyone.

Evans said the Gemini flights are expected to end this year, or in 1967 at the latest, as the first step of the accelerated program to put a man on the moon by 1970. The flights leading up to a climactic lunar landing are preparatory steps, he said.

In answer to a question why the U.S. lands its spacecraft in water while the Russians land theirs on land, Evans revealed, "We do not have the accuracy to do this yet."

He noted Russia has the vast Siberian plains to make recoveries, while the U.S. does not have so large an unoccupied area available. He said NASA is working toward achieving the necessary accuracy.

Evans argued that the United States is "open" in its space programs, preferring to make its recoveries public.

On the other hand, he said, Russia's space flights are for military purposes and can be kept more secret if landings are achieved on solid ground.

Council Vice President G.M. Gehrke welcomed the banquet audience. Entertainment was provided by the Codas, a women's singing group from Eden, Hazelton, and the Nobles, from Buhl and Twin Falls.

Each of the 37 Eagle Scouts honored at the banquet has earned scouting's highest award during the past year.

Blaine Cattle Group Buys 3,000 Acres

CAREY — Two years of negotiations ended here Monday with the purchase of controlling interest of 3,000 acres of land by Dry Creek Cattle Association, Inc. Carey.

Included in the purchase were the holdings of Clyde Bacon, Jerome, which includes 1,876 acres — 6,800 shares of Sawtooth Grazing Stock and 2,100 Animal Unit months of BLM land. Some 2,800 shares of grazing stock also were purchased from Flat Top Sheep Co. at Muldoon. About 1,000 head of cattle will be fed on this range from May 1 to Oct. 1. It is hoped this number will double in the next 10 years, officers said.

The land is located north of Carey. Members of the company are Boyd Barton, president; Floyd Meacham and Keith Hunt, both board members; Lowell Meacham, Keith Justensen and James Toone, all Carey; W. A. Molyneux, also a board member; William Castle, secretary, and Carlisle Castle and Charles Larkin, both Gannett.

On the other hand, he said, Russia's space flights are for military purposes and can be kept more secret if landings are achieved on solid ground.

AUCTION SALE

ONE OF THE PROBLEMS of commuting is experienced by Patricia Brown as she drops her books in the rush of getting to class. It is estimated that 41 per cent of all College of Southern Idaho students commute to and from school. (Times-News photo)

41 Per Cent of Students At CSI Are Commuters

"Approximately 41 per cent of our 715 students commute," comments Dr. Donald Keith, dean of the College of Southern Idaho.

In emphasizing the need for campus housing for students, Dr. Keith pointed out that less than 50 per cent of the entire student body is from Twin Falls; 11 per cent of the student body has found adequate housing in Twin Falls, and the remainder commutes from outlying towns.

Keith went on to say that Twin Falls residents have been more than cooperative in helping students, and some have turned basements into adequate student apartments.

One of the major drawbacks of off-campus housing is the time element involved in finding adequate facilities. The dean on men of the college must visit with each landowner and check the prospective housing for fire safety and for adult supervision. Any misbehavior beyond adult supervision is handled by the college officials.

Driver Unhurt After Mishap

BUHL — Bill Butler, 27, Buhl, escaped injury Saturday when he momentarily dozed at the wheel of his car and the 1959 Pontiac ran off the right side of the roadway.

The vehicle sheared off a telephone pole and tore out some fence at 2:30 a.m. Saturday, one and one-half miles north of the Clearlakes road.

The car was considered a total loss, according to State Patrolman Richard Burns. Damages were estimated at $100 to the telephone pole and an undetermined amount to the fence.

Young Army Major Given Inspiration

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Dickie Weber, the 5-year-old honorary Army Reserve major who is suffering from leukemia, has received encouragement from the White House.

He also has received a mass donation of 92 pints of blood in the 10 weeks since he was commissioned.

Dozens of people across the country, many of them friends or relatives of leukemia victims, have written their support—and even advocated some well-meaning although medically unrecognized cures for the disease.

Under the care of doctors at University of Michigan Hospital, Dickie has managed to put the disease into at least a temporary regression.

Every day the bouncy crew-cut blond holds his own is one more day for medical research to progress.

Dickie hasn't required a blood transfusion in several months, and he is still attending kindergarten.

Officers and men of Lansing's 4th Howitzer Battalion of the 20th Artillery donated 92 pints of blood at their Army Reserve meeting Sunday.

The unit awarded Dickie his major's gold leaf in February after learning of his fight against leukemia. Now he comes to all the weekend meetings from his home a few blocks away, wearing a cut-down Army uniform and toting a .45 caliber pistol.

James Moyers, a special assistant to President Johnson, wrote Dickie "about the nice story in the newspaper about you. The President read it. He wants you to know that he is proud of your for being such a brave young man, and he knows you will keep on doing what the doctors tell you to do."

2 Idaho Men Are Killed in Auto Wrecks

By The Associated Press

An Emmett youth was killed when a car went off an embankment, hit a pole and caught fire near Horseshoe Bend Monday night and a Caldwell man was fatally injured earlier when his pickup went out of control.

State Police said Larry Wayne Woehler, 21, was killed in the Horseshoe Bend accident. They said the car went off State 52 at excessive speed.

Officers said the driver, Elden Curtis, 21, and James D. Frisbee, also of Emmett, were hospitalized. All three were out of the burning car when police arrived.

Sheriff's officers said Silas M. Hudson, 65, of Caldwell was fatally injured earlier when his pickup went out of control and overturned while passing another pickup south of Caldwell.

Deputies said Hudson died hours later at a local hospital. His passengers, Travis Glenn, 19, and David Knie, 38, also of Caldwell, were treated and released.

School Boards Won't Soften Strike Stand

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The National School Boards Association has rejected a move to soften its traditional stand against teacher strikes or boycotts.

The traditionally conservative group's Delegate Assembly at the same time removed from NSBA's standing policies Monday a section that said school boards should "refrain from compromise agreements based on negotiation or collective bargaining."

Substituted for that section was a new one worded in somewhat roundabout fashion that did not mention collective bargaining — an issue that is coming more and more to the fore in the nation's schools.

The new section called for developing a method of "utilizing the knowledge and experience of professional personnel in the formation of education policies." This seemed to be a recognition of teacher agitation to be consulted more on setting school policies.

Almost too Late

Until petitions are filed next week, no one knows for certain how many candidates will be after the Democratic nomination for governor. Some of the candidates have been running for months, buttonholing party leaders and delegates to the party's nominating convention. Talk to any of the candidates and each will assure you he has enough delegates lined up to assure nomination. That's physically impossible, of course, because under the law requiring endorsement by "more than" 20 per cent of the assembly delegates, no more than four could possibly be nominated.

There's a difference between a pledge of support and an actual vote for nomination at the party convention. Some of the candidates who haven't been stumping Idaho looking for support must be counting on picking up votes that already have been pledged to others. One of these candidates, obviously, is H. Westerman Whillock, millionaire Boise businessman. He got into the Democratic race after studying the results of a special poll of public opinion prepared especially for him. To date, he hasn't divulged results of the special poll.

Idaho has statutory limits of financing for political campaigns, but no way to enforce the law as proved by Vernon K. Smith four years ago. But Mr. Smith also proved that expenditure of large amounts of money won't guarantee election, either. It should be clear that Mr. Whillock and his friends won't cut corners on expenses, yet it should be clear that adequate financing alone won't guarantee nomination or even election in the primary vote. Neither will the unknown contents of the special poll guarantee nomination, especially in the crowded field of candidates.

Perhaps more than any other factor, the crowded field may be eliminating at least one possible candidate for the Democratic nomination. Undersecretary of the Interior John A. Carver Jr. has been mentioned prominently and frequently as a possibility. Earlier, the word was out that he would make no decision until after Gov. Robert E. Smylie had announced what he planned to do. That milestone has come and gone and still Mr. Carver remains silent.

Mr. Carver has considerable stature in Democratic circles, especially since he holds the highest federal government office ever held by an Idahoan. Yet with barely a week remaining before the start of the filing period, he remained silent. It would be a good guess that he has looked at the crowded field and decided not to take the step this year. There's also the little problem of finding unattached delegates to the nominating convention, but that shouldn't be an insurmountable obstacle to a candidate of Mr. Carver's stature.

A different problem is what would happen in the primary election. Mr. Carver has been gone from Idaho for a number of years, a fact that would invite the usual charge of "carpetbagging." He might come through the primary in good shape if only two candidates were involved, but with three candidates almost a certainty and four candidates a good possibility, it's enough to slow down anyone.

There's also the factor of Mr. Carver's present position. If he were to seek the Democratic nomination as Idaho governor, he would have to resign as undersecretary. Even though he's held in high regard in Washington, and everywhere else, it would be asking too much to hold the position open for him in event he tasted defeat in Idaho.

It's almost too late for Mr. Carver to decide to enter the Gem State race. By the same token, it's almost too late for any other candidate to jump into the already-crowded race.

There's one possibility that could develop at the Democratic Party's nominating convention. The assembly could turn into one of the most bitter battles in Idaho politics. At the height of the uproar, a move could develop for a compromise or coalition candidate who would be acceptable to the many factions of the party. If Mr. Carver, or someone of his stature, were handy, it's possible the party could come out of the nominating convention with one candidate and a position of strength. It's a possibility, but a somewhat poor probability.

Money or stature notwithstanding, the Democrats appear to be headed swiftly and certainly toward a head-on battle at Coeur d'Alene. The only chance to avoid it is to divert some of the declared candidates and that has to be rated no more than a dim probability. Personal ambition will overshadow party welfare, particularly because the announced Democratic candidates can see only the chance to be elected governor this year.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—Something yet may be done about the country's maddeningly archaic mail service if Postmaster General Larry O'Brien has the guts to follow through in the campaign to get junk mailers to use the so-called Zip Code. These mailers, whose businesses are partly subsidized by the U.S. Treasury, are on notice to comply by next Jan. 1 or lose their preferential rates.
Unfortunately, there is reason to fear that O'Brien will be forced to chicken out as a result of lobbying pressures on both Congress and the White House. More than a year ago—in February, 1965—the department ordered business mailers to pre-sort second and third-class volume mail by Zip Code beginning in July of this year. But there were so many howls from these privileged types that a politically-conscious administration extended the deadline to next January.

SAVINGS IN A LOSS AREA—The Zip Code may be a ruddy nuisance, but in the context of the deterioration of mail service it also makes sense. It is aimed at improving mail handling by short-cutting the tedious and time-consuming chore of reading addresses. It would reduce errors to a minimum and would reduce the time now employed—or wasted—in sorting junk mail. And yet three years after the Zip Code was introduced Post Office figures show that only about 36 per cent of the mail carries Zip Code numbers.

Clearly, a crackdown on these free-loaders is long overdue. They stuff the mails daily with their junk, paying an average rate of only 27 cents per piece instead of the 4 cents the Post Office wants to charge. The result is a $316.8 million-a-year subsidy which comes out of the taxpayer's pocket, since this figure represents the difference between what the junk mailers pay for postage and what it costs to handle their mail. It accounts for almost 40 per cent of the department's present deficit of $792.4 million. Similar subsidies to 11 different types of so-called "non-profit" organizations add another $180 million to the red ink side of the ledger.

OBSTRUCTIONISTS—Although O'Brien still spends too much time politicking for Lyndon Johnson, it is only fair to acknowledge his problems in trying to get a letter delivered across the street in less than 48 hours. The powerful postal unions, which terrorize Congress, fight automation every step of the way, and the railroads oppose a plan to carry more first-class mail by air although they eliminate mail-carrying trains almost every hour on the hour.
These obstructionist tactics have resulted in the Post Office Department turning, as a last resort, to a sectional center system designed to speed up delivery by bypassing big mail centers and thus reducing the amount of handling. Each center serves as a clearing house for mail for 40 to 75 nearby post offices. The smaller offices send all mail to the sectional center, where it is sorted, bagged and shipped to other centers for distribution to local post offices.

LONG WAY AROUND—But while the sectional center system has improved service between large cities, its roundabout routing has resulted in new delays in deliveries within the states. For example, a letter from Georgiana, Ala., to McKenzie—six miles away—travels 165 miles and often takes four days for the trip. The reason, of course, is the mail trucks can't stop in every little town en route to the sectional center because that would defeat the purpose of the system.

Meanwhile, the postal deficit ranges from $600 million to $800 million a year—a high price for what may be the world's worst mail system. Somebody—like maybe Larry O'Brien—should warn Lyndon Johnson and those timorous congressmen that elimination mail subsidies might be the smartest political move the administration could make. After all plain citizens vote, too.

SICK AND TIRED

On March 2, at a Defense Department news conference, Secretary McNamara hardly helped the American image of calm and unperturbable leadership when he tore into a West German newspaper correspondent for asking a question that implied the United States was weakening its readiness in Europe to strengthen its forces in Viet Nam.

"I am sick and tired of hearing (this) implication," the Defense Secretary told the reporter, Joachim Schwellen of the Stuttgarter Zeitung.
Last week, 36 days later, it was disclosed by the Pentagon that the Defense Department is temporarily drawing down 15,000 specialists from the Army's forces in West Germany to meet needs that arise in Viet Nam.

On Feb. 21, Hanson Baldwin, military correspondent of the New York Times, reported that the manpower squeeze on the Army had led to ammunition and clothing shortages and the commitment of most combat-ready units to Viet Nam.
Secretary McNamara called a special news conference to assuage these findings. But it is now conceded that four of the six Army divisions in the continental United States are deficient in combat strength and readiness, being largely filled with draftees in basic training.

It would appear to be the turn of the press, and particularly of Herr Schwellen and Mr. Baldwin, to say that they are "sick and tired" of listening to the denials and deceptions of the Secretary of Defense on matters of fact which reporters attempt to pursue. — San Francisco Chronicle.

DRUGS LAW NEEDED IN IDAHO

It was unsettling for East Idahoans to learn recently in a talk by secretary of the Idaho State Board of Pharmacy that Idaho needs to rewrite its law controlling drugs.

It was a jolt particularly to learn that illicit drug handling occurs in Idaho and that the enforcement is nebulous at best.

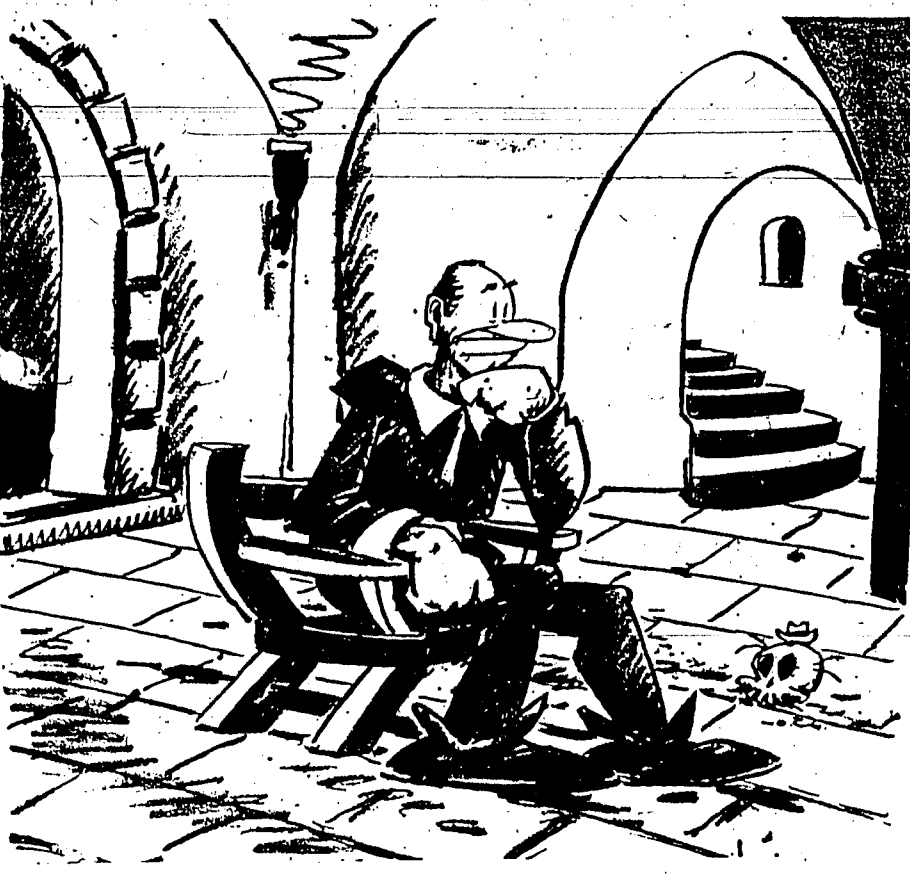

Clifford Barnett of Boise, the board's secretary, pointed out that in one reported case in southern Idaho an illicit drug case was handled from city police, to sheriff's office, to Seattle to the Food and Drug Administration enforcement division . . . and then back to Boise. There appears to be no definite guidelines on enforcement responsibility, particularly between local government and between state and federal government in certain cases. Barnett pointed out that the state's law has provisions already outlawed by federal law.

"We also need to develop adequate means of treating addicts as well. We do not have a drug problem compared to New York, but we have a problem when compared with some other states. Idaho definitely needs an illicit drug correction law," said Mr. Barnett.
And obviously, it does. — Idaho Falls Post-Register.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—My daughter, 39, is very nervous. She had an enlarged thyroid. One doctor wanted to remove the gland right away but her family doctor gave her medicine and the gland shrank to half its former size. Was she right not to have it removed? She is still very nervous.
A—An overactive thyroid (toxic goiter) is one cause of extreme nervousness. If this is the cause of your daughter's trouble she will have a rapid pulse, a fine tremor of her hands and some degree of protrusion of her eyeballs. In the early stages these symptoms are best evaluated by a physician as they can easily be missed by a layman.
If she has a toxic goiter her thyroid should be removed. Medical treatment with propylthiouracil is effective in younger persons but in those who are over 25 it cannot be relied on to control this disease.
Q—I had almost all of my toxic goiter removed 18 months ago. I still have a rapid pulse. What do you advise?
A—In the past it was customary to remove about 6-7 of the thyroid of persons with toxic

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse never stops belaboring President Johnson, especially for his Viet Nam policy. The two men get along well. Johnson is always finding special missions for Morse.

If it hadn't been for Morse — or his vote in 1955 — Johnson might not now be in the White House. At least his road there would have been tougher. But that isn't enough to explain the relationship between the two men.

Morse has been a critic of all the presidents since he came to the Senate in 1945.
He started out as a Republican but the Democratic presidents from Harry S. Truman through John F. Kennedy and Johnson and Democrats in general have given Morse far more professional and political understanding and appreciation than President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Republicans in general.

Morse, who had been dean of the law school at the University of Oregon, had a background in constitutional and labor law before going to the Senate. President Franklin D. Roosevelt had appointed Republican Morse an arbitrator of labor disputes for seven years on the West Coast and then a member of the War Labor Board for two. Then Morse went into the Senate as a Republican.

Democrats were late to make use of that background but not the Republicans.

His first clash with Truman came in 1946 when the President, going before Congress to ask special measures to stop the railway strike, was suddenly interrupted quietly and then announced the strike was over. Morse later publicly derided this as ham acting. This infuriated Truman and many others.

In a relatively short time Morse publicly apologized and the following year publicly praised the President for vetoing the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and fought to sustain this veto. Later Morse revealed Truman had offered him a high government job. Some sources said it was the post of attorney general.

And in his memoirs Truman spoke of his high regard for the Oregonian.

Morse poisoned himself with the Republicans when, after first supporting Eisenhower's candidacy in 1952, he did a reverse, quit the party, backed Adlai E. Stevenson, called Eisenhower a puppet of reactionaries. Morse considered himself an independent Republican. The Senate election results were close.

In deciding which party should control the Senate, Morse sided with the Republicans although Vice President Richard M. Nixon said they didn't need him or want him. Republicans paid him back for his desertion — Morse called it "horsewhipping" — by stripping him of all his important committee assignments. He was without them two years.

In the 1954 elections, although still an independent, he plugged for a Democratic victory. The result in the Senate: 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans. This time, if Morse had joined the

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Go very light on the vices—such as carrying on in society. The social ramble just ain't restful. Avoid running all times. Don't look back, something may be gaining on you."

How they got started: Charles Dickens and Ernest Hemingway were newspaper reporters. Thomas A. Edison sold refreshments on trains. Somerset Maugham was a doctor; James Joyce set out to be one but quit the study of medicine after six weeks. Dwight D. Eisenhower worked for a dairy.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—To get some idea of what it means to try to hold elections in Viet Nam, consider a historical analogy. Imagine that a proposal had been made in, say, 1863, to hold nationwide elections—to decide the future of the country at the height of America's Civil War.

While this analogy is far from exact, it suggests the overwhelming difficulties in the way of holding anything like a fair election which would express the will of majority of the South Vietnamese people. The blood hatreds, the tribal and religious feuds go so deeply, that a choice made through the ballot box must seem all but impossible.

The Viet Cong have repeatedly practiced the most savage reprisals, shooting down in village after village not only men but women and children. Terrorism has killed or maimed far more innocent Vietnamese than military or other forces engaged in the war.

American bombing in South Viet Nam has without doubt alienated many peasants and their families. Although the total of civilian casualties is hard to come by, it is far larger than the official figures. The indiscriminate use of napalm has done fearful harm to individuals and to whole villages. Viet Cong hideouts are inevitably near communities from which the Viet Cong can levy supplies and manpower.

Formidable as the obstacles are, there is a gleam of hope in the fact that Premier Ky has agreed to hold an election for a constituent assembly on Aug. 15. As a partner in the war and in the search for peace, the United States must do everything possible to try to see that a reasonably fair election is held. In that light, a proposal by Sen. Albert Gore, a Tennessee Democrat, making the score 48-48, the vote of Nixon would have given control to the Republicans.

One result: Johnson would not have been majority leader, the job which gave him national prominence in a hurry, and he was a man in a hurry.
The Democrats, although Morse was still an independent, put him on the Foreign Relations Committee, a post he badly wanted. He did not declare himself a Democrat until a month later.

Later Morse banded away at Kennedy who nevertheless made use of Morse's talents in the labor field, just as Johnson did and does.

see Democrat, deserves serious consideration.
Gore proposed in a speech on the Senate floor that the United States join with South Viet Nam in calling for a ceasefire for a two-week period leading up to the election. Obviously elections cannot be held, except in very limited areas, if the fighting goes on. The chances for a cease fire, as other senators pointed out, are virtually zero.

But if the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam rejected such an appeal, this would be evidence that they do not want free elections. Gore noted that he had been the first to propose a call for negotiation early in 1965. This was three months before President Johnson made his Johns Hopkins speech calling for discussion looking to a negotiated settlement of the war. That speech and the peace offensive of December and January helped persuade the world that the United States wanted peace while the Communists rejected any and all overtures. Gore reported that at the recent conference in Canberra, Australia, this conviction was strongly evident.

The political upheaval in Viet Nam was a direct outgrowth of the Honolulu conference; and, since that conference was initiated by the United States, there is all the more reason to give quiet background help toward a satisfactory way out. The meeting in Honolulu can be taken as a classic example of how not to conduct diplomatic negotiations with the uncertain government of a state that is weak and dependent.

To begin with, that meeting—no matter how long the President may have had it in the back of his mind—seemed to have been hastily improvised. It posed as equals Ky, the head of the military directory with little or no popular support in Viet Nam, and the President of the most powerful nation in the world—a fiction that could not deceive anyone. Voices had been raised to suggest that the conference be enlarged, with representatives of other Asian countries having a direct role in the outcome of the conflict.

But that would have taken careful and extended preparation. In the outcome, the Johnson bearhug was too much for Ky. It underscored his dependence on Washington and his lack of any popular following at home. It might have come out in any event, but Honolulu made the Buddhist uprising inevitable.

Perhaps the strongest plank in the American policy in Viet Nam is its expressed determination to prevent the Communists from imposing government on South Viet Nam by force and violence. This, of course, is what the Communists mean to do with the help of an undetermined volunteer support from within the country.

Increasingly, however, it must look to the Vietnamese as though Washington meant to impose—despite a disclaimer every other day—a government bearing its own stamp of approval. That was part of the damage done by the Honolulu embrace. History shows not a single instance of an invading army—no matter how beneficial the reason for the invasion—being able to impose a government on an unwilling people. That was what our own revolution was all about.

With careful and not too obvious aid, the election may precede light at the end of the tunnel. At the same time, it cannot be ignored that the odds probably favor more chaos and confusion.

How You May Never Take a Laxative Again!

New Miracle Regulator Keeps Waste Soft—So Bowels Move Naturally

New York, N. Y. (Special)—After 12 years' research, scientists have discovered a wonder-working substance that corrects constipation entirely without laxatives!

Doctors say most constipation occurs when waste loses moisture in the colon—becomes dry, hard, difficult to move. To give relief, laxatives have to force action by flushing, irritating or distending the intestine.

The new miracle substance—known medically as dioctyl sodium sulfosuccinate—works in a completely different way. It is not a laxative! It simply makes natural moisture in the colon moisten and soften dry, hard waste more effectively. Then normal elimination follows naturally. Thus by working only on waste, not on you, the substance corrects constipation and restores regularity as no laxative can.

This new discovery has now been made available at drugstores under the name REGULOL. It is safe—not habit-forming. No warning on the label—no prescription needed. Try REGULOL—discover for yourself that you may never need to take a laxative again!

BARN BURNS

BOISE (AP) — Fire destroyed a barn at the Idaho Penitentiary's Eagle Island Farm, west of Boise, Monday night. Prison officials said 28 calves and one colt were in the barn and all were destroyed. Cause of the fire was not determined.

SUPPORT ANDRUS

SANDPOINT (AP) — Formation of a Bonner County Cecil Andrus for Governor Committee was announced Monday by James D. Stoecheff, chairman. State Sen. Andrus, of Orofino, is one of five Democrats seeking the party's nomination to run against Republican Robert E. Smylie.

"We feel that Andrus is the best qualified candidate for governor," Stoecheff said, "and that it is indeed time for a change."

BUY MARKET CHAIN

BOISE (AP) — Purchase of the M and W Market chain of 11 stores in southwest Idaho and East Oregon has been announced by Arnold Mecham of Boise and Ray Shweeler of Pocatello.

Mecham and Wheeler said they bought the stores from Lou Mendiola and Fred Wisner, who founded the chain in Boise 14 years ago. The price was not announced.

Seven of the markets are in Boise. The others are in Nampa and Parma in southwest Idaho and in Nyssa and Vale, Ore.

BOND SALE SET

POCATELLO (AP) — First sale of $1.5 million in bonds for renovation of Bannock Memorial hospital has been scheduled for 2 p.m. Monday by Bannock County Commissioners.

The work is to include remodeling of the hospital's fourth floor air-conditioning of patients' rooms and modernizing of nursing stations.

The bond issue was approved by voters last November. The hospital also has secured a $183,705 federal grant for outpatient services.

ADVISED OF WEATHER

FRUITLAND, Idaho (AP) — The threat of freezing weather returned today to western Idaho orchards and fruitgrowers were advised to prepare again to operate heaters.

Harold Harvey, U.S. Weather Bureau meteorologist, said temperatures may fall as low as 24 degrees during the night.

SPEAKER NAMED

POCATELLO (AP) — James Farmer, former national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, will be the guest speaker at Idaho State University Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The lecture will be open and free to the public at the student union.

Farmer's topic will be "The civil rights revolution in America."

WALKER SPEAKS

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — Democratic caucus candidate Lloyd J. Walker says Democrats may help re-elect Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie again if they allow themselves to be dominated by North Idaho candidates.

Walker contended Democrats have lost election after election by allowing themselves to be dominated by the north. He said to do so again would be to invite disaster at the polls.

The Twin Falls attorney and former state Democratic chairman said a candidate must understand the problems of the entire state, especially the south and east sections which have the bulk of the population.

Pupils End Boycott At School

DETROIT (AP) — Pupils boycotting Detroit's predominantly Negro Northern High School voted to end their boycott today and returned to their regular classes.

They voted while at a "freedom school" in a nearby Episcopal church.

Michael Batchelor, a leader, told about 800 pupils that "Arthur T. Carty is gone as principal at Northern."

School officials did not confirm Carty's removal, but he was not at the school today.

Carty's ouster had been demanded by the boycotting pupils. They claimed they were not getting an adequate education at Northern.

Meanwhile, officials at Northern said "many more students returned to classes today" before the boycott-ending agreement was reached.

Attendance of 727 students was reported Monday, compared to 694 Friday, and 410 last Thursday. Northern has an enrollment of 2,300.

REPORT EARNINGS

BOISE (AP) — Boise Cascade Corp. reported Monday net earnings of $3.4 million for the first three months of 1966, up 11 per cent from the corresponding period a year earlier.

Total sales for the period were more than $110 million, up 20 per cent.

Vice President R. W. Halliday said the net earnings were equal to 57 cents per common share, compared with 48 cents a year earlier.

KILLED IN ACTION

BLACKFOOT, Idaho (AP) — A second Blackfoot man has lost his life in the Viet Nam War. Spec. 4 Ivan J. Broyles, 26, was killed at 3:45 a.m. last Thursday.

It was exactly one month ago, March 21, when Blackfoot's first casualty, Staff Sgt. Lester Michels, died in Viet Nam.

Cancer-Swap Patient Loses Disease Battle

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harry T. Griffith, who suffered from a deadly form of bone cancer and underwent an experimental cancer-swap operation recently in an effort to prolong his life, has lost his battle with the dread disease.

Griffith, 53, of Flourtown, Pa., a former professional baseball player, died Monday in Chestnut Hill Hospital.

Although he had been told he had only a short time to live if the operation did not succeed, he never gave up his hope or his courage.

"I'm not a quitter," he said after the operation March 4. "I'm not going to lose my optimism."

"I know one thing. I'm going to give this a good try like a ball player when the big one comes up to the plate. I'm going to take a good cut at it."

Griffith's operation, which was developed only two years ago, was performed at the Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, New York State's cancer research and treatment center.

In the operation, Griffith, who had a form of cancer known as osteogenic sarcoma, exchanged small strips of malignant tissue with Robert F. Allen, 29, of Tucson, Ariz., who had the disease, and then exchanged blood with him.

Doctors had hoped that by transplanting cancer cells between two patients with identical cancers, each patient's body would produce antibodies against the other's cancer.

Then, by exchanging blood, the antibodies hopefully would attack the patients' original cancer.

Dr. Sigmund Nadler, associate chief cancer research surgeon at the hospital, who helped perform the operation, had reported that a similar experiment two years ago with a skin cancer victim was successful.

In Buffalo, a hospital spokesman, informed of Griffith's death, said the experiment was an "unproven method of treatment at best. It apparently was of little or no value in Mr. Griffith's case."

He said he did not know whether Allen, who is still a patient at the hospital, had been told of Griffith's death.

Allen and two other men who took part in a similar experiment are progressing, he said, and it would be some time yet before their conditions will be evaluated.

Human Rights Progress Is Seen by Man

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. John P. Humphrey, "Mr. Human Rights" at the United Nations for almost 20 years, believes man is winning his battle to maintain his individual rights in a society growing more complex every day.

At 61, Humphrey is retiring as director of the U.N. Division of Human Rights to return to the law faculty of McGill University in Montreal. He had been named dean of students there just before he took his new U.N. assignment in 1946. He is a native of Hampton, N.Y.

He is not retiring from work in the field of human rights. He has been elected to membership on the Subcommission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities — a subsidiary group of the U.N. Human Rights Commission. He will attend meetings of the subcommission in January as one of its 18 experts.

In December 1948, the U.N. General Assembly adopted the universal declaration of human rights — the culmination of two years of effort of the Human Rights Commission under the chairmanship of Eleanor Roosevelt.

At the time, Mrs. Roosevelt stressed that the declaration was not binding legally. Humphrey takes the view that now the declaration has become part of customary international law aimed at protecting the individual against organized society.

He says this is so because of the general recognition the declaration has received in the international community. He says it is part of a new body of law which has given the individual new status over the past 20 years.

"And now," he adds, "the United Nations is taking the even more significant step of creating actual machinery to implement the protection of human rights."

Kill Bill

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts House has killed 140-64 a bill to establish a special commission to investigate the packaging of candy bars.

Rep. Raymond Bourke proposed the study because he said candy manufacturers are "hoodwinking" youngsters by misrepresenting the amount of candy in a package.

Bourke said Monday some candy bars are two inches shorter than their wrappings.

Highlights for Week

Best Bets for Movies

10:55 Wednesday 2B — "Return of the Texan" (1952) is the story of a young rancher who returns home to find it in shambles, starring Dale Robertson and Richard Boone.

7:00 Thursday, 2B, 5 — "Houseboat," 1958, color, features Sophia Loren as a bored socialite housekeeper who sweeps into the household of widower Tom Winston at the behest of his young son. Gary Grant accompanies Sophia, Martha Hyer and friends.

10:15 Thursday 4 — "Four Sided Triangle," is the science fiction thriller of two young scientists who have created an instrument which can duplicate anything in the world, including a scientist's young wife.

10:55 Friday 2B — "The House on Telegraph Hill," 1951. Released from a concentration camp, a young Polish girl assumes the identity of a dead follow-prisoner who had U. S. relatives, starring Richard Basehart.

Promising Specials

7:30 Wednesday 7SL — "Venezuela — Last Stand for Democracy." This documentary focuses on Venezuela's capital of Caracas and the new city of Guayana, examining the social and economic reforms made since the Alliance for Progress began and the status of democracy in the country under pressure from extremists of both left and right.

9:00 Wednesday 7B — Communist China as seen in the perspective of the Viet Nam War. Conditions in the nation are compared with pre-revolutionary conditions. This hour-long color feature seeks to answer how China views the U. S. in the light of U. S. movement into Asia.

8:30 Thursday 3, 11; 6:00 Thursday 2SL, 7B, 2B, 5 — "The world of Jacques-Yves Cousteau" is explored in the last of the season's National Geographic specials. Cousteau probes the silent depths of the sea as he and his crew of oceanographers and technicians complete construction of Conshelf Three his third continental shelf exploration capsule — 18 feet in diameter designed to house six Oceanauts for three weeks at a depth of 328 feet.

9:00 Friday 7SL — "Crime and Punishment" This dramatization of Fyodor Dostoyevsky's masterpiece explores the conflicting feelings of the audacious murderer who kills in an effort to achieve a Nietzschean stance amid the sordid world of limited beings. The novel is the minute dissection of the conflicting drives which eventually bring about the undoing of Raskolnikov — there has since been designated a "Raskolnikov Complex," so real is the delineation — and, too, bring about his salvation. The TV version features David Collins, Patricia Hayes, Julia Foster and Patrick Wymark. (Two hours long)

10:30 Tuesday 3; 10:55, 2B — "Stravinsky," a portrait of the 83-year-old composer who became one of the great revolutionary forces in the music of the 20th Century.

Special Sports Events

12:30 Sunday 3, 5, 11 — CBS Sports Spectacular features high points of the four-country European tour of the Florida State Circus and an auto thrill show at West Palm Beach, Fla.

2:00 Sunday 5 — "Football, the Great Years," is an exciting narration of the history of America's great fall pastime, narrated by Frank Leahy.

Peyton Place Series Has New Game

There's a new game on the "Peyton Place" set at 20th Century-Fox Television where the series films. It's called "Catalyst or Happenings?"

The categories were suggested by a recent Hollywood-based writer whose column was devoted to a crystal-ball look into the future of "Peyton Place."

Included in the piece was a descriptive passage from an ABC-TV network official who explained that the cast of characters falls into one of the two categories.

"A catalyst sees to it that things happen to certain people, and the people they happen to are naturally the happenings. Evelyn Scott, who portrays the Ada Jacks role, is one of the catalysts," according to the article.

"I don't want to be a catalyst," said Evelyn. Then Ryan O'Neal chimed in and jokingly said he'd dare anyone to call him a catalyst. But the best of them all was Mia Farrow's comment. "I'd like to think of myself as a hypotenuse—a catalyst-hypotenuse."

Each day, before the day's filming, the work cast and crew determine from the day's script who is a catalyst and who is a happenings. "We've labels for everything these days," observed veteran actor Frank Ferguson, who plays Eli Carson. "Frankly, I prefer the old label — just plain actor."

"Bewitched" Sets Third TV Season

ABC-TV's "Bewitched," one of the nation's most popular comedy series, will begin its third season on the network next fall.

Elizabeth Montgomery returns as the beautiful housewife Samantha, Dick York as her ever-bewitched, mortal-type husband, Darrin Stephens, and Agnes Moorehead as Samantha's delightfully witchy mother, Endora.

The comedy adventures will focus on Samantha and her witchcraft talent; Darrin's labors in the advertising vineyards; their daughter, Tabitha, still an unknown quantity as to whether she is witch or mortal; and their sundry friends and nosy neighbors.

Panhandler Gets Big TV Welcome

Samantha mistakes a bum for one of Darrin's relatives on "Bewitched" Thursday, April 28 (ABC-TV, 9:30 p.m., PDT).

In "A Bum Raps," Samantha and Darrin are expecting a visit from his eccentric uncle. When Horace, a panhandler looking for breakfast, comes to the door, Samantha welcomes him as Uncle Albert.

48 TV Shows To Leave Air This Season

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Oh, the waste of it all! No fewer than 48 television series are shuffling off the networks this season, a record.

This throws hundreds of actors out of work and corporations into panic — three big studios had a total loss of 17 series. Millions of dollars are lost, since many series fail to show a profit on the first run. They need a few years of production and reruns to break even.

Is there a solution to this waste? There is, and it is offered by that astute observer of the television scene, Caroline Thomas.

Miss Thomas is 7, and she was upset to learn that two of her favorite shows, "Gidget" and "The Patty Duke Show" are going off the air.

"Why can't Gidget move in with Patty Duke?" she suggested.

A brilliant suggestion. Shows could be spared the ax by combining with others for double the viewing enjoyment. Or triple, since Tammy would be an ideal companion for Patty and Gidget.

Ben Casey and Dr. Kildare could go into practice together. The Addams family could take up residence with the Munsters, or vice versa, and scare the dickens out of each other.

A combination of the Loner, Jesse James, the Man from Shendadoh and the chaps from "Branded" and "Rawhide" could wipe the Ponderosa off the map.

There isn't a case that could not be solved by a detective agency staffed by Honey West, Henry Phyle, Secret Agent and Blue Light. Hazel could get a job with Ozzie and Harriet. Mister Roberts and McHale's Navy could climb aboard the Wackiest Ship in the Army.

Caroline and I have not yet figured out what to do with My Mother the Car, Mona McClusky, O.K. Crackerby, John Forsythe and Hank. But then the networks couldn't, either.

RECUPERATES

It's fortunate that Robert Goulet is young and healthy for the writers of 20th Century-Fox Television's "Blue Light" series keep writing fight scenes for him. "I used to spend my weekends working out in a gym," Goulet said, "but now I spend them recuperating and nursing my bruises."

Romney Optimistic That Detroit Will Be Picked As Winter Olympic Site

ROME (AP) Gov. George Romney of Michigan said he was optimistic after Detroit made its pitch Monday for the 1972 Olympic Games. "The response was very good," Romney added after the Detroit delegation gave a presentation before the 72 members of the International Olympic Committee. It was the city's eighth bid for the Games since 1939. The Detroit group was the first to appear before the IOC,

Indians Blank A's 2-0 for Eighth in Row

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sam McDowell allowed only one hit — Jose Tartabull's looping single in the sixth inning — as the unbeaten Cleveland Indians defeated Kansas City 2-0 Monday night for their eighth victory.

Larry Brown's two-out, two-run single in the sixth inning enabled the Indians to continue as the majors' only undefeated team and to come within one of tying the American League record for nine victories without a loss at the start of a season.

McDowell, now 3-0, walked three Athletics in the first five innings, and two more batters reached base on errors. But he didn't allow a hit until Tartabull led off the sixth with a single to right-center field.

The fireballing left-hander then walked Mike Herschberger but got Ron Harrelson to hit into a double play and fanned Dick Green for one of his eight strikeouts.

Celts Worry About Trip to Los Angeles

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics move back to Los Angeles with a feeling of foreboding today about the sixth game of the National Basketball Association's championship playoffs.

"They'll be at their best with the crowd behind them and knowing there's no tomorrow," said John Havlicek of the Celtics after the defending champions put on their worst performance of the series to lose the fifth game 121-117 Sunday at Boston Garden.

Losing Coach Red Auerbach was especially burned about having to make the trip to Los Angeles for the game Tuesday night.

"We have that long, long trip for nothing," he moaned. "And I warned the guys this might happen. Once we got the lead we got careless. We thought it was over."

It was a combination of poor Boston shooting and a stronger Los Angeles defense that gave the Lakers the fifth game victory, slicing Boston's lead to 3-2.

Solons Release First Baseman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators announced Monday they had given veteran first baseman Joe Cunningham his outright release.

The Senators also sent pitcher Buster Narum to Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League and recalled pitcher Jim Hannan from York, Pa., in the Eastern League.

First of 150,000 Steelhead Smolts From Snake River Planted in Lemhi

SALMON—The first of some 150,000 steelhead smolts, fish eight inches long and a year old which were produced from Snake River run steelhead and raised at the Hagerman Fish Hatchery, have been released in the Lemhi River.

Twenty-nine thousand steelhead were planted the past week in the river upstream from the town of Lemhi and immediately began moving downstream on their way to the ocean.

The project is a joint undertaking of Idaho Power Co. and the Idaho Fish and Game Department with the program financed by the power firm.

Terry Holubetz, Salmon, fisheries biologist in charge of the Lemhi River Steelhead and salmon restoration program for the department, said the fish came from mid-Snake stocks of steelhead and spent a year at the Hagerman hatchery.

Next year the Snake River steelhead will be raised at a special hatchery at Niagara Springs on the Snake River, then be placed in ponds in the Lemhi to migrate to the ocean.

The program seeks to transfer the Snake steelhead run to the Lemhi. The question of whether the fish will return will have to wait a four to five year cycle while the fish are in the ocean.

Wendell Smith, fish biologist for Idaho Power Co., told a 50th anniversary dinner the firm hosted here that the company was able to get fish over the Snake River dams but that after they spawned the young fish could not find their way back which is expected to announce Tuesday the sites of both the Summer and Winter Games six years hence.

The 1968 Summer Games are scheduled for Mexico City and the Winter Games for Grenoble, France.

Besides Detroit, cities bidding for the 1972 Summer Games are Munich, Montreal and Madrid. The Winter Games candidates are Salt Lake City, Utah; Banff, Canada; Lahti, Finland, and Sapporo, Japan.

Montreal dropped a bombshell by offering free room and board to all Olympic athletes should the Canadian city win the 1972 Summer Games.

Avery Brundage, American president of the IOC, said:

"I am fairly certain that no country or city has ever before put forward such a proposal."

"The Montreal delegation pointed out that much of the money to be spent on staging the Games would already have been covered by the staging Montreal's World Exposition next year and as a result of this they were prepared to help athletes with room and lodging."

Other IOC members said privately that the Montreal offer had made a tremendous impression.

The Detroit delegation told the IOC that Detroit would make plans so that "all expenses of Olympic athletes and their entourage are kept to an absolute minimum."

Romney said, "The fact that we are trying once again for the Games shows that we are good losers in the best Olympic tradition, but we hope we manage to win this time."

Jerome Cavanagh, mayor of Detroit, said "I had a feeling that our presentation went down well with a somewhat better attention from the IOC than we had at the meeting in Baden-Baden, Germany in 1963."

Romney said in an address before the IOC meeting that "In matters of sports desire, ability and teamwork are the most important winning qualities."

"No place in the world has a greater desire than Detroit and Michigan to host the 20th Olympic Games. We have sought this opportunity continually for nearly 30 years. In fact the leadership of our efforts has now passed into the second generation, with our chairman, Fred Matthaei, following in his father's footsteps."

"If you'll give us the opportunity to show what we can do, you will find in Detroit in 1972 a magnificent new stadium and all other facilities specifically built to Olympic standards," Romney said. "The city and the state give you that pledge."

"If we win, I'm sure that the real winner will be the 20th Olympiad," he added.

The delegation showed a brief documentary and a filmed speech made by President John F. Kennedy a few weeks before his death. The same address had been used during Detroit's Olympic bid at Baden-Baden in 1963. The delegation also read a telegram of support from President Johnson.

Members of the 21 international sports federations that supply athletes for the games sat in on the presentations, and the president of the International Ski Federation, Mark Hodler, commented:

Bunning Pegs Phillies Over Pirates 5-0

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jim Bunning pitched a five-hit shut-out for Philadelphia Monday night, beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-0 for his second victory of the young season.

Bunning, who struck out seven and walked but one, got the only run he needed in the fourth when Richie Allen hit his third homer of the year into the upper deck of the right-field stands.

But the Phillies got him four more runs in the sixth, driving Pirate starter Bob Veale from the mound with five hits.

Bunning retired the last 12 batters in a row and 17 of the last 18 he faced.

Sacrifice Fly Lets Chicago Nip Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tom McGraw's sacrifice fly delivered Floyd Robinson with the winning run in the ninth inning as the Chicago White Sox shaded Washington 3-2 Monday night.

Robinson walked with one out and went to third on Pete Ward's single. Ward's hit came after Washington catcher Doug Camilli dropped his foul pop for an error.

Then McGraw, who drove in Chicago's winning run in the 10th inning against Kansas City on Sunday, fled out to Fred Valentine with Robinson scoring after the catch.

The Senators' runs came on consecutive home runs by Ken McMullen and Frank Howard in the fourth inning with Howard's clutch judged to be the longest ever hit in D.C. Stadium.

Howard's blast hit the second row of the mezzanine seats in deepest center, 480 feet from the plate, and the ball was still rising.

Hodler presided at a night meeting of the federations and said they would give their views on technical aspects of each city's bids to the IOC Tuesday.

Holding Line

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — No new football bowl games won certification by the National Collegiate Athletic Association which announced Monday it was holding the line with nine established post-season tilts.

Elimination of its all-star football certification program was also taken under consideration by the NCAA in San Francisco.

Advice Given on Training Dogs In Farm Fields

BOISE (AP)—Owners of dogs were urged Monday to keep their animals under tight control while training them in Idaho farm fields.

The Idaho Fish and Game Department said a previous ban on training dogs in the field during the nesting season of upland game birds has been removed by the Fish and Game Commission.

But the agency said dogs must be kept under tight control at all times to prevent them from molesting or destroying the nest or young of upland game birds.

The department also advised boat owners that it is against the law to harass waterfowl by driving a boat too near them or their nesting areas.

VALPARAISO, Chile (AP) — Bobby Rascoe and Darrell Carrier combined for 44 points, each got 22, to lead the United States to an easy 90-71 victory over Spain Monday night in the final round of the World Amateur Basketball Championships.

Homers Lead Braves Over Giants 5-0

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lee Thomas and Hank Aaron provided all the runs with a pair of homers and Atlanta right-hander Ken Johnson stifled Willie Mays' quest to become the leading home-run hitter in National League history Monday as the Braves blanked San Francisco 5-0.

Johnson's soft knucklers stopped Mays, who had tied Mel Ott's career record of 511 homers in Houston Sunday. Willie popped up, struck out, walked and lined to left against the Atlanta veteran who pitched a three-hitter.

Thomas hit a two-out, three-run homer in the third off Giants' starter Bob Shaw, who took his second loss in three decisions. Thomas also singled twice.

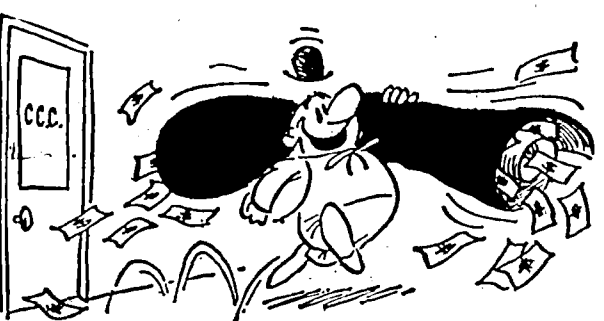

Aaron put the Braves ahead 5-0 in the fifth inning by slamming a two-run homer off reliever Bob Priddy.

Yastrzemski, Red Sox Tip Yankees 8-5

NEW YORK (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski slashed four straight hits and drove in three runs in pacing the Boston Red Sox to an 8-5 victory over the New York Yankees Monday. The loss was the Yanks' seventh straight and their 10th in 11 games this season.

The Yankees got four of their runs on homers. Ray Barker, subbing for the ailing Joe Pepitone, slammed his first with one on in the second. Bobby Richardson homered in the third and Roy White in the fifth, each with the bases empty.

Yastrzemski's fifth inning double off starter and loser Bob Friend snapped a 3-3 deadlock. Pepitone, a first baseman, and Yankee catcher Elston Howard were out with the flu.

A slim crowd of only 3,370 turned out to watch the game in 67,000-seat Yankee Stadium. The weather was cool and overcast in the morning but was sunny and mild at game time.

Griffith Drops Tiger to Take Over Middleweight Title in Close Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight champ Emile Griffith won the world middleweight crown Monday night by dropping Dick Tiger for the first time in his 72-bout career and winning a unanimous decision in a very close 15-round battle at Madison Square Garden. Griffith hopped wildly around the ring in a victory dance and lifted Tiger off his feet in enthusiasm after the verdict was announced to the crowd of 14,394 fans paying $147,536.

Kentucky Derby List Reduced to About 12

The fearsome reputation of unbeaten Graustark has driven another handful of Kentucky Derby eligibles to cover, reducing the tentative lineup to about a dozen colts—with two weeks still to go before the Churchill Downs classic. Indications are there will be more tripping before the field is set for this country's most prestigious horse race a week from Saturday. Prominent among the recent dropouts were Tragenew and Postage, who ran 1-2, a nose apart, in the California Derby at Golden Gate fields last Saturday, and two Ogden Phipps-owned nominees — Stupendous and Impressive.

Graustark, the top-heavy Derby favorite from John Galbreath's Dan Farm, hasn't intimidated Amberoid or Kauai King, winners of the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct and the Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie, respectively, last week-end.

They head a dwindling group of likely starters in the Run for the Roses that also includes Advocate, Buffle and Exhibitionist, who ran 2, 3 and 5 behind Amberoid in the Wood; Quintia, third in the Gold Cup; Fleet Shoe, beaten favorite in the California Derby, and Abe's Hope and Blue Skyer, already quarantined in Kentucky.

Two other Derby hopefuls, Williamston Kid and Oaktown, arrived at Keeneland Sunday to begin preparations for the first leg of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds.

Williamston Kid, who was moved up to first place in the Florida Derby after Abe's Hope was disqualified, came in from Florida and the unraced Oaktown arrived from Waterford Park in West Virginia.

Graustark will make his last pre-Derby start in Thursday's $25,000 Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, with Abe's Hope and Blue Skyer also expected to go.

Idaho Falls Bowlers Top State Meet

REXBURG (AP)—Al Brownell, Idaho Falls, won the 1966 Idaho State Men's Bowling singles championship as bowlers from Idaho Falls dominated the tournament which ended here and in St. Anthony this weekend.

Brownell's 735 gave him the title over Bill Gremmels of Idaho Falls while an Idaho Falls team, Martin Brothers, used a 3,206 to win the team handicap title and a 3,074 to take the scratch prize.

Brownell was the singles scratch leader with a 690 followed by Pocatello's Jack Hiatt with a 661.

A Boise team, Ken Tyrer and Emery Bryant, took the doubles title with a 1,363 score edging Fred Dalton and Alan Rudd, Grace, with a 1,362. Tyrer and Bryant also were the doubles scratch leaders with 1,233.

Ray Oakley, REXBURG, with a 1,991, had the highest all-events handicap score and Hiatt took all-events scratch honors with a 1,845.

Women's State Bowl Results Are Listed

POCATELLO (AP)—The 1966 Idaho State Women's Bowling Tournament concluded here over the weekend with no notable changes.

Here are top finishers in tournament: Handicap doubles: Mary Brower and Leslie Morrison, Pocatello, 1,377 (new record); Jeanie Beglan and Kit Peterson, Twin Falls, 1,354; Eva Falter and Diane Gardner, Pocatello, 1,333.

Team handicap: Butte County Bank, Arco, 3,151 (new record); Sof Spray Car Wash, Min-Cassia, 3,128; Silver Horse-shoe, REXBURG, 3,093.

All-events handicap: Florence Forey, Nampa, 2,068 (new record); Darlene Walters, Blackfoot, 1,988; Mary Brower, Pocatello, 1,924.

Scratch doubles: Hester Mitchell and Mary Otto, Jerome, 1,147 (new record); Elva Cleman and Nancy Rutan, Meridian, 1,144; Marlen Nelson and Donna Wood, Blackfoot, 1,138.

Cash, Kaline Pace Detroit Over Twins

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain pitched a four-hitter as Detroit defeated Minnesota 3-0 Monday night behind home runs by Norm Cash and Al Kaline.

The loss was the Twins' sixth in the last seven games.

McLain, running his record to 30, retired 12 straight batters between Andy Kosco's fifth-inning single and a double by Zoilo Versalles in the ninth.

Versalles' blow came with none out, but the young right-hander retired Tony Oliva on a foul pop, Bob Allison on a fly to center and Harmon Killebrew on a grounder.

Cards' Jaster Stops L.A. in 2-0 Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Left-hander Larry Jaster's seven-inning pitched shutout defeated Los Angeles 2-0 Monday night as St. Louis defeated the Dodgers 2-0.

Curt Flood doubled home the first of two sixth-inning runs that gave Jaster, 2-1, the victory over Claude Osteen, who had won his first three decisions this season.

The Dodgers advanced only one runner as far as third base and now have gone 30 consecutive innings without a run.

Lou Brock, who earlier had extended his batting streak to 11 games, started the Cards' winning rally when he opened the sixth inning with a walk. He took third on Julian Javier's single and scored on Flood's double. Charlie Smith climaxed the uprising with a run-scoring fly.

Rains Delay Dallas Open Second Time

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The final round of the $85,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament was postponed Monday because of heavy rains that made the course unplayable. One last effort will be made to get in the 18 holes Tuesday.

The PGA tour is due in San Antonio Wednesday for two pro-amateur tournaments in connection with the Texas Open that starts Thursday.

The PGA admitted it had no rule that would force it to leave Tuesday, but it did say it had a contract with the Texas Open that presented an obligation not to go beyond that day to finish here.

The field of 71 will start out Tuesday at noon with John Lotz and Harold Henning tied for the lead at 54 holes with 205 each. Ken Still, Doug Sanders and Gary Brewer are tied two strokes back.

If the final round is washed out Tuesday, it is likely that the tournament will go into the records as a 54-hole affair and the leaders at that stage would win the money although it might be reduced proportionately. However, all decisions will be worked out by the PGA.

Surtees, Parkes Top Monza Race

MONZA, Italy (AP) — Britons John Surtees and Mike Parkes drove an Italian Ferrari prototype to victory Monday in the 620-mile Monza auto race.

A Ford sports car driven by American Masten Gregory of Kansas City and Briton John Whitmore was second, one lap behind.

Another American team composed of Skip Scott of Deven, Pa., and Peter Revesen of New York pulled out on the 32nd lap of the 100-lap race. They had the second best time in the trials. Surtees and Parkes won over-

Referee Arthur Mercante scored it 9-5-1 for Griffith. Judge Frank Forbes had it 7-8-2 and Judge Tony Castellane 7-7-1 in rounds but 8-7 in points for Griffith. The AP card was 8-6-1 for Griffith.

Although New York Commission rules insist Griffith must give up his welter title, the new 160-pound king had said previously he would have his lawyer take it to court. His lawyers were in the dressing room to press the claim.

Griffith, a flashy 28-year-old boxer-puncher from the Virgin Islands, was the third welter king to move up to middleweight crowns. The others who made it were Sugar Ray Robinson in 1951 and Carmen Basilio in 1957. Four others failed in bids for the heavier title.

The decisive factor in this battle of champions was the quick knockdown scored by Griffith in the ninth round. A short right to the head dropped the 36-year-old Nigerian to the floor for the first time in his career.

Tiger bounced up quickly after knockdown timekeeper Johnny LoBianco had counted to three. The automatic eight-count rule was in effect, however, so Tiger stood and waited while the count continued.

Griffith surged to the attack and slammed home a left hook that had the Tiger reeling — but he refused to go down again.

The welter champ, at 150½ pounds, gave away 9½ pounds to the 160-pound Tiger who had recaptured his title last Oct. 21 from Joey Giardello. Griffith had won the welter crown three times and went into the fight as the world recognized king of the 147-pounders.

In the dressing room Griffith said he never tried to knock out Tiger, even when he had him on the floor.

The bewildered Tiger said, "It takes me to make a fight and he ran." He made no excuses for the knockdown but pointed out "I got up."

Gentile and Astros Drop Redlegs 2-1

HOUSTON (AP) — Jim Gentile's run-scoring single in the sixth inning snapped a tie and Mike Cuellar pitched a five-hitter as Houston handed Cincinnati its seventh loss in the last eight games, 2-1, Monday night.

Jim Maloney, the Reds' stubborn holdout this spring, started the game and retired the first eight Astros, but he hurt his pitching elbow in the third inning and had to leave the game.

Joey Jay hurriedly warmed up and came in to pitch, but the Astros got to him in runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

With the game tied 1-1, Joe Morgan led off the sixth with a single, stole second and two outs later raced home as Gentile singled to right field.

Schlagenhauf, Harper Top Blue Lakes Best Ball Meet

Harvey B. Schlagenhauf and Ed Harper took a six-stroke lead after 23 holes and from there went on to defeat Dr. Willard Peterson and Spec Haslem 6 and 5 over 36 holes for the championship flight title of the Blue Lakes Country Club Spring Best Ball tournament.

The two teams played even ball through the first nine holes, but Schlagenhauf and Harper made it 1 up at the 18th. Five holes later Schlagenhauf and Harper had the 6 up lead. The four tied the final four holes.

Two flights were delayed because of sickness, the second flight and the consolation fifth flight. These will be made up later, when the golfers can get together.

John Platt and Fred Maltz took first flight honors with a 2 and 1 victory over Bob Harvey and J. D. Claiborn.

Third flight honors went to Ben Mottern and Joe McCollum, who scored a 1-up victory over Rolfe Severson and Dr. Frank McAtee.

Bob Soran and Dr. McKain took a 1-up victory over Bob Goss and Bob Stradley for the fourth flight honors and Armo Anderson and Dr. Katz defeated Bill Skinner and Ted Hinton 3 and 2 to win the fifth flight.

Consolation bracket play was held for first round losers with Glen Trail and Dr. Gary Simmons topping the championship flight with a 1 up, extra-hole victory over Dr. Glenn Hoss and Doug Burlaise.

Paschal Wins Virginia 500

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — The experts wrote off the Ford for the Virginia 500 stock car race, and according to the final scoring sheet, they were right.

Jim Paschal of High Point, N.C., won the race in a 1966 Plymouth, followed by Paul Goldsmith, of Munster, Ind., in a 1965 Plymouth, and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., in another 1966 Plymouth.

Paschal started from the pole position and led 358 laps of the 500-lap race despite a scoring error that at first gave the win to Goldsmith.

Coyotes Add Two Wins to Record

SALEM (AP)—College of Idaho toured part of Oregon Monday, and added two wins to its Northwest Conference baseball record.

The Coyotes dropped league-leading Linfield, 4-2, in McMinnville, then stopped Willamette University in Salem, 7-3.

Both Cards, Mets Profit From Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock prediction by both teams that a baseball trade will help each is holding up well in the case of third basemen Charlie Smith of St. Louis and Ken Boyer of the New York Mets. The deal was completed last Oct. 20 and Monday, more than six months later, Smith was the National League batting leader with a .486 average and Boyer was fourth with .382.

Smith, who hit only .244 for the Mets last season, collected 10 hits in 19 times at bat, a .528 pace, last week. Al Jackson, a left-handed pitcher, accompanied him to St. Louis in the Boyer trade.

Jim Ray Hart of San Francisco is the NL runner-up with .442. He is followed by Curt Flood of St. Louis, .415, Boyer and Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell, .375. Boyer, the circuit's most valuable player in 1964, batted only .260 for St. Louis in '65.

Willie Mays, the Giants' star who slammed a record-equaling 511th home run Sunday, heads the National League in homers with six and in runs batted in with 15.

In the American League, Frank Robinson of Baltimore, the former Cincinnati slugger, tops the batting with .467. He also leads in runs scored with 13.

In last week's games, the Orioles' Robinson had seven safeties in 13 attempts, a .538 gait.

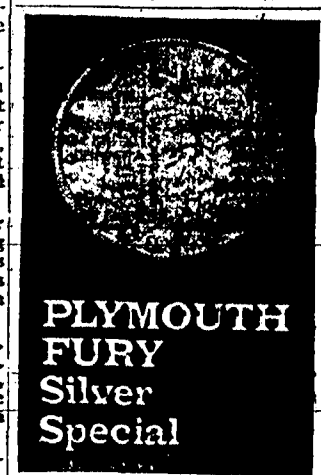

Floyd Robinson of the Chicago White Sox is second with .429. Then come rookie outfielder Jackie Warner of California and Max Alvis of Cleveland in a third-place deadlock at .406 and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, .405. The figures include Sunday's games.

Minnesota's Tony Oliva, the AL batting champion the past two years, is sixth at .387.

Floyd Robinson and Oliva are tied for the AL home-run lead with four each, while Brooks Robinson is the pace-setter in RBI with 18.

Juan Marichal of San Francisco and Claude Osteen of Los Angeles top the majors in pitching. Both have won three games and lost none.

Beards Are Popular on USS Enterprise

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
ABOARD THE USS ENTERPRISE (NEA) For as long as men have gone down to the sea in ships, they have come back from it with beards.

The modern swab is no different.

To the chagrin of the captain and the lament of the ladies back home, hundreds of the carrier's crew have camouflaged their chins with flurries of fur.

Big beards, lovelocks, curly, straight, black, brown, red, blond, the ship looks like a Smith Bros. cough drop package.

Young and old, meek and bold, almost everyone has experimented. The estimate is that at least half of the vessel's crew of 5,300 officers and men has tried to cultivate some facial hair.

What's more, nearly 1,000 have succeeded.

Out here they call them "the great hairy herd."

Indeed, a deck stroll is like walking through the anthropoid house at the Bronx Zoo. Guys with skin shag are swinging from every yardarm.

One popular cut is the Casanova goatee. Another is the Ulysses Grant thatch.

One fellow looks like Errol Flynn with a pot belly. Another resembles a 5-foot-5 Abe Lincoln. A few are obviously compensating for fate; that is, sowing below the ears what nature has already harvested above.

Some comb, some don't. Wax is popular. So is sweet smell. But the primary pleasure for these moss midshipmen is to sit and—scratch, twist, tug, rumple, pick, rub and admire the brush they have manicured during some four months before the mirror.

For all of that, however, it hasn't been smooth sailing, much less shaving, for the plumage planters.

To begin with there were the gobs who took advantage of the situation. They didn't want beards, they just weren't standing close enough to their razors in the morning.

The whole thing got out of hand. The ship started to look like a barbershop floor. Everybody had 5 o'clock shadow at noon, and it began to look as if beards would be banished.

But the skipper's decision was fair to hair.

His order: "One set of whiskers per cruise."

The regulation split the ship into two factions — them that have and them that have not. And this has created animated arguments as to which side is the wiser.

Says a Have: "A beard is a wonderful friend and it is also useful. Every morning when I eat, bits of food get lost in the hairs. During the day I can lunch just by picking them out."

Says a Have Not: "I grew one but I cut it off. I got sick of waking up feeling like the backside of a bear."

To be sure, the rivalry has grown somewhat embarrassing for the Haves. They are called "mop mouths" and must suffer the tweaks and titters of their hairless mates. Somebody, for example, is forever running after them, saying, "woof, woof!"

And as if that isn't bad enough, even the homefolk seem to be siding with the unlightened enemy.

One seaman sent a picture of his stubble to his fiancée and within a fortnight he got it and his engagement ring back.

Her letter was three words: "Sorry about that."

The bearded fraternity here still talk about that chap. The incident broke him up completely. It was horrible. The next morning he picked up a razor, touched it to his throat and shaved!

250 YOUNG MUSICIANS will present a program of orchestra music at the Robert Stuart Junior High School Gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Students at Harrison Grade School saw three performances of the grade school portion of the program Monday afternoon. Two of the young musicians are, from left, Mary Ann Babel, violinist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Babel, and Wayne Forey, bass viol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Forey. (Times-News photo)

250 Young Musicians Will Present Orchestra Night

Students from the first to the 12 grade will participate in Orchestra Night at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Robert Stuart Junior High School Auditorium.

The young musicians total 250 and include five grade school orchestras, combined into one, the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade orchestras from both of Twin Falls junior high schools, and the Twin Falls High School Orchestra.

Some of the selections to be played by the elementary orchestra are "Shortnin' Bread," "Merry Widow Waltz" and "Coronation Scene." The seventh grade orchestra will play four folk-tunes from Europe, and will feature violinists Catherine Murray, Sherry Heider, Marsha Hall, Jo Nussbaum, and Marsha Lambert and Jan Olsen as soloists. They will also play two trumpet tunes.

The concert orchestra will present "Short Overture for Strings," by Jean Berger, "Jankiana," Bosmans, and "Two Moods," Philip Gordon.

City Attorney Is Fired in Idaho Town

MOUNTAIN HOME (AP) — Robert McLaughlin was fired as Mountain Home city attorney by Mayor Frank Pearce Monday night over heavy objections by three city councilmen.

Mayor Pearce said that since he had appointed McLaughlin, he also could fire him. He appointed attorney Robert Rowett to the vacancy.

The mayor refused to give his reasons for the firing but it was understood he had favored Rowett originally but conceded to councilmen and appointed McLaughlin.

Pearce said he had written McLaughlin thanking him for his services and asking him to resign. The mayor said the city attorney had not resigned so he fired him.

In 1962, McLaughlin represented airman Gerald Anderson who was accused of murder but acquitted by civilian authorities and later by the Air Force.

McLaughlin recently was hired by the State Land Board as one of two attorneys to represent it in a land dispute in Caribou County.

Hedy Lamarr Testifies in Theft Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hedy Lamarr was preoccupied by physical, emotional and financial problems, and she had no intention of stealing anything, she told jurors in her petty theft trial.

The defense rested its case Monday after the actress spent a full day testifying to her innocence.

Final arguments were to be heard today.

The actress, 51, was arrested on a shoplifting charge last Jan. 27.

Miss Lamarr was accused of taking $86 worth of clothing, cosmetics and other items from a Los Angeles department store. She was arrested as she left the store, allegedly with the goods in a shopping bag.

She said she gathered the 18 items in her bag as she walked through the store, intending to pay for them all at once. She also said she had purchased, and paid for, a pair of shoes.

She testified that her business manager, Earl Mills, had written the check for the shoes, and that she had stepped outside the store, carrying the allegedly stolen goods, looking for Mills when she was arrested.

Army to Organize 2 More Brigades

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army will set up two more advanced infantry training brigades in September, it announced today.

The two advanced individual training brigades at Ft. McClellan, Ala., and Ft. Lewis, Wash., will bring the number of such units to five.

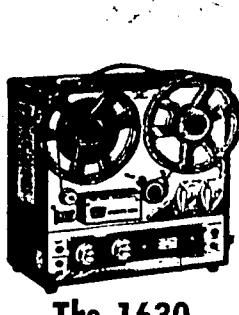

The expanding Army has or soon will have 15 basic training centers from which recruits are funneled into the next step in making them ready for combat.

"Botts Dots" Are Now Used On Highways

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — "Botts dots" are making the familiar white line obsolete on California highways. Backers claim they are also making life safer for millions of motorists.

State engineers predict that eventually the bright, bumpy little round markers will dot highways throughout the nation, at substantial savings in lives and money.

Highway men hung the "Botts dots" tag on the markers because they're primarily the brainchild of the late Dr. E. D. Botts of the California Division of Highways.

Experimental versions have come and gone on California roads for more than 10 years in a search for better lane dividers than the usual white lines, which tend to vanish in rain, fog and snow.

The end result, now being planted along major freeways, is a dome-shaped gadget 4 inches wide and three-quarters of an inch high. So pleased is State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack with the little dots' work that he asserts: "The white line on California highways is obsolete. Our new type lane marking is not only more visible and cheaper, but will also make driving in California safer."

The plan mixes use of plain white and reflectorized markers, the plain ones showing better in daytime, the reflectors better at night.

Groups of four plain dots, three feet apart, are used instead of the nine-foot-long white strips previously dividing lanes. On straight sections, a reflective marker is placed every 48 feet, and every 24 feet on curves.

Carrying out the state's war against wrong-way drivers on freeways, who take a heavy toll each year, the reflective markers on roads with dividing medians show white to a driver headed the correct way.

But a motorist zipping along into oncoming traffic is confronted with a string of bright red "lights" ahead of him — the reverse side of the dot.

Raised markers are slated for all future freeways, expressways and two-lane rural highways in nonsnowy areas. Tests are under way in the Sierra Nevada on markers implanted level with the highway, to survive assault by snow-removal equipment and abrasive sand.

The raised markers are held to the pavement by a high-strength glue that made their introduction possible.

One main effect of the markers is psychological. The rumble effect when a vehicle hits the markers cuts down lane changing by about 40 per cent, tests show. That reduces the number of accidents — waking a dozing driver, for example.

Church Pews Are Made for Comfort

CHICAGO (UPI) — When the Mayflower landed at Plymouth, the settlers stood to say on unheated logs at worship services. Today's churchgoer is being coddled with upholstered kneelers, seats and backs.

The trend to upholstered pews was making a small showing as far back as 1950, according to a survey among members of the Church Furniture Manufacturers Association (CFMA), a division of the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers.

In 1950, only 12 per cent of total production of church pews was given to upholstered pews. Today, 41 per cent of pews are cushioned. By 1970, the percentage of upholstered pews is expected to reach 56.36, the CFMA survey said.

The reason for the big increase is that architects and church buying committees are specifying more comfort than required in past decades.

Not only are pews padded, the old oak pew now looks a bit dated. Veneers and flake core veneers are frequently used at pew ends and finishes are as handsome as those used on home furniture.

Architects want pew design to conform to church design. The use of molded plywood permits more plasticity in pew design. Some manufacturers think the plastic pew, which offers similar advantages of molded plywood but is expected to be less expensive, is not too far away.

Also of interest to purchasers of church furniture is the use of Scotchguard on fabrics, veneer construction, concealed anchorage of pews, floors, new style pew folding kneelers, and long-length upholstery to eliminate uncomfortable center divisions.

Play Will Be Given at Hailey

HAILEY — "The Reluctant Dragon," originally produced by the Community Children's Theater of Twin Falls last fall will be presented Saturday at the Wood River High School.

Some 200 students were transported by bus to Twin Falls last fall to see the national award winning production.

The local showing will make it possible for all children of Blaine county to see the drama. "We want to share this entertainment with the adults, too," said Mrs. Eugene Sturgill, director.

Air Force Survival School Provides Viet Nam Rigors

HINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — An officer stood in a prison compound and surveyed the thatched huts about him. He was a veteran of Viet Nam. To him, this was very real.

It was meant to be realistic. This is the Combat and Survival School of the Air Force 4th Mobile Communications Group. The Air Force believes that if an airman is captured in time of war, he ought to know how to escape.

And if he escapes, he should have every chance of surviving the rigors of the jungles of Viet Nam.

Lessons of escape and survival begin in the classrooms at Hunter Air Force Base at Savannah and shift to classrooms at Ft. Stewart. But the real tests come in the prison compound and the surrounding swamps and piney woods of coastal Georgia.

The classroom instructors become prison guards. The students become prisoners of war. Frequently, an instructor purposely will make a miscount of prisoners assigned to a work detail. This is a key situation for a prisoner who wants to escape. If he doesn't take advantage of it, he gets a mark against him.

Another instructor acting as a sentinel will lower his guard deliberately, giving a prisoner the opportunity to overpower him and escape. If the prisoner doesn't seize the opportunity, he gets a mark against him.

The course lasts 19 days. More than 600 men have passed through the camp since March 1965.

The training is mandatory for members of the communications group, because they may be called on to establish com-

Gets Notice

BERLIN (AP) — Air Force M. Sgt. Domenico Strangio, 37, a 20-year veteran of U.S. armed forces, got a draft notice recently asking him why he hadn't shown up for induction in the army of his native Italy. He went to the nearest Italian consulate as ordered and explained he left Italy with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Strangio, now of Sacramento. The draft notice to him—and had joined the U. Development of 3 Man-Made Lakes Near Heyburn Noted HEYBURN — Dell Hollinger, president of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce, and State Rep. Dale Garner, both Rupert, presented primary plans for the development of the three man-made lakes, Wednesday night during the meeting of the Heyburn Chamber of Commerce.

The No. 1 lake is located near the twin bridges and Declo Interstate exchange. Number 2 lake is at Heyburn near the overpass of Highway 24, and No. 3 lake is also at Heyburn, located near Highway 27 near the Ponderosa Inn.

Tentative plans call for development for public rest area and picnic grounds but will not include over-night parking for traveling vehicles.

Main objective is to keep the areas under State control so private development cannot take over. A major plan has been prepared for immediate development beginning at the No. 2 lake which includes a sprinkling system, restrooms, picnic facilities, lawn, fishing and possible swimming.

The project will be spearheaded by the Rupert Jaycees with the assistance of the Minidoka County commissioners, State Highway District, Idaho Fish and Game Department, Soil Conservation Service, Rod and Gun Club, and Chamber of Commerce from Rupert, Heyburn and Paul. A central committee will be organized consisting of representatives from every organization participating.

Roy Welborn and Marion Judd were appointed to represent the Heyburn Chamber with this central committee.

Leo Handy, member of the county safety committee and past president of the Idaho Motor Transport Association, asked Hollinger, Garner and members of the Heyburn Chamber to write letters to Blaine Sessions, Idaho Highway engineer at Shoshone, concerning icy conditions which exist on the interstate overpass and river bridges during cold weather.

All agreed to cooperate with him in insisting the department keep these areas sanded. Handy will represent the chamber during the groundbreaking ceremony for the new Idaho Bank and Trust building this week.

Max Baird reported that he and Ivan Eliason completed the survey on stop sign erection within the village and reported they could find only two areas which should be controlled by stop signs where signs are not erected. They commended the village trustees for their safety promotion.

Earl Rose, member of the village board, asked the cooperation of the chamber in promoting a cleanup project. The village will provide trucks and drivers and chamber members will furnish men to pick up articles at the end of the campaign which will be held May 9-14. All residents are urged to use this week to collect items which are not usually picked up by the garbage collector and pile them in the alleys.

Ken Noltensmeier, new manager of the Heyburn Feed and Milling, asked the chamber's cooperation in obtaining an access road to Highway 24 by opening up the rest of 17th Street. It was suggested that he meet with the village board.

Roy Welborn and Max Baird were appointed to the nominating committee. Election will be held in June and installation in July.

Mrs. Everett Savage, member of the village recreation committee, reported on improvements completed at the village park the past six years and noted plans for future development.

Lowell Dayley, Robert Burnham and Max Baird were appointed to meet with Ross Corless, board member over recreation, and check cost estimates on these plans which will be the next chapter project.

Members voted to support the annual Arbor day dance April 29 at the Heyburn School gymnasium. All proceeds from this event will go towards park development.

Materials Arrive

SALMON — Pipe materials have arrived for the sprinkling systems at the Miles Realty golf course and home site area near Williams Lake on the Salmon River.

Rick Miles, Salmon, said Roscoe Steel and Culvert Co., Missoula, will begin trenching and reservoir construction and installation of pipe for two water systems, one for the nine-hole golf course and the other for domestic water system, during the coming week.

Cost of Senatorial Living Exceeds $30,000 Salary for Many Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — It may come as a surprise to Joe taxpayer that the cost of senatorial living is so high that many members can't make ends meet on their $30,000 yearly salary.

To Joe, who may not have reached even the $10,000 bracket, this could be a confirmation of his suspicions that his elected representatives are mixed up in a lot of the high living he is pretty sure goes on in Washington.

But senators — including some who are pretty good at doing the frug — say it isn't so. They contend the money goes for such homey things as entertaining constituents, making numerous trips back to inform the voters and getting away from their burdens for a few days in the sun.

A cross-section check of members — none of whom wanted to be named publicly — turned up indications that a relatively small number get by on what remains of their salaries after state and federal taxes and pension deductions.

The whole matter was brought to public attention by the contention of associates that the expense of public office costs Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., from $15,000 to $20,000 more than his $30,000 salary.

This was advanced in connection with the claim that between $100,000 and $200,000 raised at testimonial dinners for Dodd represented tax-free gifts. The Senate Ethics Committee has Dodd's situation under investigation.

A New England Republican who has been around a long time said he lives within his $30,000 salary and manages to save about $2,000 a year. But he said he could see where other senators more attracted to the Washington and home state social whirls than he could spend $50,000.

A Democrat from the Southwest, who doesn't live within his salary because he doesn't have to, said that entertaining the home folk is a big item. He said he has never charged it off his income tax because he doesn't regard it as a legitimate deduction.

A Border state Republican, who concedes he doesn't live on his $30,000 salary, said he could if he had to. But he said it wouldn't be difficult for a senator to spend as much as $50,000 "without even having a liveried butler."

He said he has never had to spend any of his own money on his campaigns, since he was able to get financial support from fund-raising committees. But he said this isn't necessarily true of all candidates.

A Midwestern Democrat said he has been having so much difficulty financing family living on $30,000 he sold his home in his state and is using the money to finance a son's college education.

This senator said he could see why it might cost Dodd and some of his other colleagues $50,000 a year to get along.

He noted, among other things, that he makes about 15 trips a year to his home state but can draw transportation expense for only six.

There are, of course, some fringe benefits when one is a senator.

The Senate's majority and minority leaders get $2,000 a year in expense money, plus a limousine and driver. There are no such allowances for other senators. But there are other extras.

If they can't find space in federal buildings, they can rent sites for offices in their home states for a total of $2,400 a year. So far no member has closed off his porch and rented it to the government, as a House member once did.

Each senator gets $2,400 a year for stationery. If he doesn't use that many letterheads and envelopes, he can draw the remainder in cash. Many use this fund to help finance radio and television tapings for home consumption.

The average senator can pick up the phone 200 times a month and chat long distance for a total of 1,000 minutes at government expense. Senators in the largest states get calls and 1,500 minutes free. Members get from $800 to $1,000 a year for air mail and special delivery stamps.

All of this adds up to sizable sums that go into senatorial coffers. But the general complaint is that the outgo is even bigger.

Smuggling Across Iron Curtain Becomes Profitable

VIENNA (AP) — Smuggling across the Iron Curtain has become a profitable business — boosted by the scarcity of consumer goods in Communist Eastern Europe and the appeal of Western products.

The great tourist stream that treks eastward each summer, on holiday or weekend, gives smugglers a chance of trying to slip across the Iron Curtain under the noses of customs officials.

Nearly four million cars entered Yugoslavia last year and Czechoslovakia border checkpoints averaged up to 3,500 border-crossings a day.

A typical case of modern smuggling was told by a Czechoslovak customs official, Frantisek Minarik of the Mikulov checkpoint.

"One day last August I had to take care of a long line of cars with weekend tourists and Austrians visiting their relatives in Czechoslovakia," he said. "I checked a Viennese driver in an American-made car who was making his 28th trip to Czechoslovakia. I took a closer look at his car and noticed that the space behind the rear seat was rather large."

"I called a mechanic who unscrewed the wall behind the rear seat and pulled out 190 nylon coats that had been neatly stacked in his secret compartment."

Another smuggler passed the Mikulov checkpoint 47 times in nine months, shuttling back and forth with foodstuffs, watches, raincoats, transistor radios and leather jackets for Czechoslovakia and Czechoslovak cameras and antiques for Austria.

He had organized 15 young people into a group. Each had a specific task — purchasing, transport, storage and distribution.

A Vienna chauffeur stuffed the seats of his car with money, fixed a dozen radios under the dashboard, filled the space around the engine with watches and built a special compartment under the floor for lighters and ballpoint pens.

Smuggling into Hungary does not always cross the Iron Curtain. A Western group was arrested for smuggling goods in from Czechoslovakia. Czechoslovakia produces shoes, textiles, glassware and porcelain at prices considerably lower than those in Hungary.

Smugglers who get caught face prison terms of several years, fines equal to the duties they would have had to pay for contraband goods, and confiscation of goods they were caught with and the car they transported them in. If they are foreigners they are expelled from the country after having completed their prison sentence.

Hailey Student Gets Stipend

HAILEY — Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Arndt have received word from the University of Idaho that their son, Henry C. Arndt, is one of five students who has been awarded a National Science Foundation stipend in the undergraduate research program in chemistry for the summer.

Each will receive $540 tax-free awards for full-time research in the summer school period at the University of Idaho. Arndt will also receive $400 during his senior year of 1966-67.

TURF BUILDER
PLUS 2

It's the greatest! Just spread Plus 2 on your lawn, and it's good-bye weeds. They shrivel up and gradually disappear—roots and all. And thanks to the full feeding power of Plus 2, grass spreads out and fills in where the weeds were. Result? Your weedy lawn becomes a sea of sturdy green grass.
